The Nelson Mandela Foundation (NMF) is in the third and final phase of the current five year strategic plan approved by the Board in November 2006. This created the framework for developing the Centre of Memory (COM) as the organisation's core work. By the end of 2010 the NMF had successfully exited from its HIV/AIDS (community dialogues) and Education programmes.

The Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH, working on behalf of the German Government, has provided support to the NMF community dialogues on HIV/AIDS programme using the Community Capacity Enhancement (CCE) methodology developed by UNDP since 2008. The aim of the community dialogue programme is to build relationships based on trust and mutual respect, providing a space for individuals, community organisations, government and faith-based institutions to engage constructively in addressing the social drivers of the HIV/AIDS epidemic. After three successful years the NMF and GIZ are handing the programme over to non-governmental organisations (NGOs), Government and communities concerned.

The NMF in collaboration with the GIZ calls on experienced NGOs that are interested in and capable of implementing the community dialogues in all South African Provinces. These NGOs will be trained on the tried-and-tested CCE methodology. The NGO's in turn will receive funding directly from GIZ and will be expected to identify and train local and community based NGOs to implement the community dialogues at the district and community level. The selected NGO's will also be expected to monitor and evaluate the impact of the community dialogues.

Required experience:
