Supporting edition and literacy in South Africa, the NELSON MANDELA SCHOOL HOMEWORK DIARY PROJECT provides disadvantaged South African children with an educational tool to help them develop skills that will positively influence all aspects of their lives both now, and in the future.

The Nelson Mandela School Homework Diary is designed to:

- provide South African disadvantaged learners with an essential educational tool with step-by-step guides on how to draw up a study timetable, schedule exam dates and project deadlines, and set personal and academic goals;
- expose the learner to Nelson Mandela's inspirational values and learnings through a specially selected Nelson Mandela quote per week;
- encourage youth to make a difference in their lives, their communities and their schools by making 'every day a Mandela Day' by taking action and inspiring change.
